Law & Technology Day 2017: Exciting topics and successful networking

Munich, 14 February 2016 – For the second time now BEITEN BURKHARDT, together with the patent law firm Horn Kleimann Waitzhofer, hosted the Law & Technology Day on 9 February. More than 100 participants from patent and legal departments accepted our invitation to the annual full-day event. Participants were offered diverse lectures by renowned speakers from the industry on this year's key topics R&D Cooperation and Technology Transfer.

The event is a platform for technology oriented companies -- especially German medium-sized companies -- to network and share current patent and technology law issues.

The participants' feedback was again very positive. The Law & Technology Day combines a professional transfer of knowledge with informal exchange in a familiar setting. On the evening before the event the organising firms met with speakers from this year and previous years. The event offered interesting guests, exciting lectures, intense discussions and well-designed culinary offers at our premises.

You will find details on all topics and speakers at this year's Schedule (in German).

Next year's Law & Technology Day will take place in February 2018.
