Law & Technology Day 2018: Varied topics and innovative networking

Munich, 16 February 2018 – For the third time now BEITEN BURKHARDT, together with the patent law firm Horn Kleimann Waitzhofer, hosted the Law & Technology Day on 1 February. Almost 100 participants from patent and legal departments accepted our invitation to the annual full-day event. Participants were offered varied lectures by renowned speakers from the industry on this year's key topics Protecting Innovation Before and After Launch.

Again, participants showed a great interest. The Law & Technology Day combines a professional transfer of knowledge with informal exchange in a comfortable setting. On the evening before the event the organising firms met with speakers from this year and previous years. The event offered interesting guests, exciting lectures, intense discussions and well-designed culinary offers at our premises.

The event is a regular platform for technology oriented companies -- especially German medium-sized companies -- to network and share current patent and technology law issues.

You will find details on all topics and speakers at this year's link Programme (in German).

Next year's Law & Technology Day will take place in February 2019.
